Not illustrated. 1876 Excerpt: .be able to beat Israel, against whom he and his people were now in a great rage. You cry, What a barbarous thing to offer up his son! It was indeed, and makes one shudder at the thought of it; but such cruel deeds have been, and still are, common among idolaters. You read, indeed, of God s commanding Abraham to offer up his son Isaac for a burnt offering; but then this was only to try if he would be willing to do all that God commanded him, even to the sacrificing of his son, and he did not let him do it. God is not a being who delights in the blood of men, though they often seem, by their cruel acts, to take delight in shedding each other s blood. His command is, Thou shalt not kill. But all the nations that have...
