The author speaks out of personal experience and observation and not from second-hand information. No more important subject has ever engaged the attention of our people than the adequate provision for the highest usefulness of our churches. Five generations have sent from the country to the urban life the purest and reddest blood of the denomination and sadly much of it at too great an expense to the vitality of the rural churches. The ravages upon the country must be repaired. Like the soil needs resuscitation, which has given its vitality in the production of fruits of the fields, the churches must needs be fertilized again. Since the products of the fields can never be returned, a deeper share is sent down and a deeper soil is turned up, bringing into use the latent strength of the field. So must it be in the churches. The somewhat depleted fertility of the religious life must be restored by bringing into activity the latent forces in the churches from which our wealth has come. In this most delightfully written book Dr. Masters has fairly treated this momentous matter, shedding light upon its problems from many angles and deriving conclusions that carry conviction upon their face. It is not a country church problem. It is a Baptist problem. It is not enlistment. It is enlargement, enlightenment, enlivenment, enlistment, and cooperative fellowship.
