Excerpt: . . . 295 XXV. TIME, PAST AND FUTURE The Apostle Peter very significantly divides the period of our life on earth into two portions; the time past of our life, and the rest of our time in the flesh. Forasmuch (he says) as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: for he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin: that he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of God. For the time past of our life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gentiles. Every present moment of our mortal existence lies between these two divisions, and is like a bridge which connects them together, and affords a stand-point from which to survey them both. But some...
