Rayful Edmond: Washington D.C.s Most Notorious Drug Lord

By Seth Ferranti

Gorilla Convict Publications. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 192 pages. Dimensions: 8.5in. x 5.4in. x 0.6in. To many in his hometown of Washington, D. C. , during his 1980s reign as the citys biggest cocaine and crack dealer, Rayful Edmond was public enemy number one. At the height of Dodge Citys brutal crack epidemic in 1987, this 22-year-old man was responsible for distributing 60 percent of the cocaine that flooded the citys streets. In the Chocolate City, Rayful was the undisputed king of cocaine. He was street royalty with a certified gangster resume. At his peak Rayful sold 2, 000 keys a week, reaped gross profits of 70 million a month and ran an operation with over 150 soldiers to support him. By his early twenties he had established himself as the citys most notorious drug kingpin. In the high profile and glamorous life he led, champagne flowed like water, trips to Las Vegas, New York and Los Angeles were commonplace and 50, 000 shopping sprees were the routine. Rayful personified the big city drug lord and his stature epitomized all the accolades that position demanded. To the mainstream media, he encompassed all that was wrong with the citys crack epidemic,...
